ANNUAL MEMORIAL DAY ORATION WAS MASTERLY EFFORT WELL DELIVERED.

STATION AT SULLIVAN STORE

Perfect Weather Conditions Made Decoration Day One of Most Successful.

Fair skies and a cool breeze made Memorial day all that could have been desired by the "old guard," to whom the day was dedicated, and the program as prepared by them was followed as announced without a hitch. The parade was an inspiring sight, the order being:

Police,
Marshal of the Day Capt. G. G. Messer,
Trumpeter Morris Rosbrook,
Dixon Marine Band,
School Children and W. R. C.,
Co. G, Sixth Regiment, I. N. G.,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Firing Squad,
United Spanish War Veterans,
Speakers in carriages,
Rock River Military Academy Cadets.

The line of march was followed as originally planned and ended at Oakwood cemetery, where the graves of the departed veterans of the Civil war were decorated by the children while the members of the Spanish War Veterans embellished the last resting places of their dead comrades.

Returning to court house square the exercises of the afternoon were held, the call to order being read by Post Commander S. W. Youngman. The invocation was delivered by Post Chaplain Samuel Hoon and excellent music was rendered by the school chorus and the quartet composed of Messdames Ballou and Read and Messrs. Rice and Beach.

The oration was by E. T. Bailey, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and was a remarkably thoughtful effort, exceptionally well delivered.

Mr. Bailey said:

We meet today for a purpose that has the dignity and tenderness of a funeral rite without its sadness. Not a new bereavement brings us here, but one that time has softened and patriotism removed the sting. We meet not around a newly opened grave, but among those which nature has already decorated with the memorials of her love and affection. Above every tomb she has ordered the green carpet to be nailed down with the sweet violets, here and there placing the creeping vine, through which the butterfly, ancient emblem of immortality, wings its way, while the songster with his siren song places the final touch of peace and harmony to the grave.

Without distinction of nationality, of race, color or of religion they gave their lives to their country, so without distinction of nationality, of color, or race or religion we garland their graves today.

The brilliant young cavalry general who rode into his last action with stars upon his shoulders and the death wound in his breast is to us today no more precious than the private walking along through swamp and forest, unarmed, waiting to take the gun from the shoulder of a comrade who might be shot the next minute, and he himself shot down. Nature has made no difference, she has been equally tender to general and private alike, the graves are marked with the same care and love and so our thought knows no difference today. He that did his duty, whether it cost his life or not, is honored by God and man alike. There is a story told of a French soldier, a hero of many battlefields, LaTour D'Auvergne, who by his own choice remained in the ranks. Napoleon gave him a sword and the official title "first among the Grenadiers of France" and when he was killed the emperor ordered that his heart should be entrusted to the keeping of his regiment and that his name should be called at every roll call and the comrade next in line should answer, "Dead upon the field of honor." In our memories this day are the names of many men, we, of this generation, are possibly thinking mostly of those who were near and dear to us by the tie of relationship, but you, comrades, the honored men of this day, you men who wear the bronze button of royalty, you are thinking of those stalwart young men those brave, upright young men, like yourselves, that started out so lively, stepping to the tune of Yankee Doodle, fifty years ago. Believe us when we say from our hearts we treasure all their hearts and answer with you as memory calls their names, "Dead upon the field of honor."

As I have afore said, we stand here today not in the freshness of individual grief, not to pay the last sad offices of respect to the outward form of friends departed. For time has dried our tears and in a way composed our emotions, perhaps better to say, turned our emotions into enthusiastic patriotism. The mother comes not to weep for her son, but to give one if the country calls. The sister comes not to weep for her brother, but to bid him God-speed if the war

DRIVER IS IN HOSPITAL

The commissioners met in regular session this morning and among other things passed the semi-monthly bills, amounting to $3684.34.

A complaint was entered by fifteen petitioners who declared that the gasoline engine used by J. J. Dautler & Son at the rear of their store building on Galena avenue, with which they generate electricity to light several buildings in the block, is a nuisance. The petitioners declare that the engine is run at night as well as in the day time and that it disturbs the sleep of roomers in the neighborhood. Mr. Dautler, Jr., said that he had taken all the measures he knew of to quiet the engine. The matter was referred to Commissioner Gannon and City Attorney Keller, who will investigate the extent of the trouble and the legal possibilities, and report at the next meeting.

Recall Saloon Petition.

A motion offered by Commissioner Henry Schmidt, instructing for preparations for a city election in response to the petition on screens in saloons and closing hours, was forestalled by an amendment offered by Commissioner Gannon, who said that in view of the fact that a number of signs on the petition that had been filed with the council a few weeks ago, calling for the repeal of the screen and closing hour ordinance or else a vote, he moved that the prayer of the withdrawing petition be granted and the petition be withdrawn. The motion passed the council and thereby the necessity of a city election to decide the saloon screen and closing hour question is unnecessary, unless another petition is presented.

To Advertise for Bids.

The commissioners passed a resolution requesting the advertisement for bids on local improvement ordinances Numbers 141, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163 and 164. The bids are to be on file at the office of the city clerk by 2 o'clock on June 15th.

The opening games of the Dixon City Baseball league, which it is anticipated will provide great amusement for the fans of the city and vicinity during the summer, were played at the new ball park on Lincoln Ave. and Sixth street Saturday and Sunday and good crowds witnessed each contest.

The grounds are not completed and accordingly patrons were forced to stand or sit in the shade of trees for the first contests, but the league directors state that the stands will be completed for the games Saturday and Sunday and the diamond will be changed to the north part of the field. It is planned to have the park in absolutely first class condition for next Saturday's and Sunday's contests.

The Stars and Illinois Northern Utilities company's teams were winners in the first games, and according to top the procession. But a number of changes will be in store before long and the race for the pennant will undoubtedly prove one of the greatest interest.

I. N. U. Won Easily.

The Illinois Northern Utilities Co. team, aided by some excellent pitching by Huber, won Sunday's game by a score of 10 to 1. Not until the last inning were the Buster Browns, the representatives of the Brown Shoe Co., able to shove a run across, although they threatened several times during the contest.

Bob Woodyatt, working for the Buster Browns, pitched almost as good a game as Carp, but his support failed him in the pinches and a terrific home run in the fourth and a three bagger by Mason in the fifth, which cleaned the bases, settled the contest.

Neither team was able to score until the fourth when Connors' four-sacker gave the I. N. U. a marker. The next inning marked the laying of the corner stone when three hits, a couple of errors and Mason's two bagger shoved five runs across. The Utility men were able to get two more in the seventh and a like number in the eighth, while the Buster Browns did not get their lone tally until the last.

Recovered Body

The boys immediately called for help and several people in the vicinity with lances responded. The lads themselves secured a grappling hook and rowing out in the river with others dragged the stream. After Quadlin had been in the river about forty minutes one of the swimmers who was with him at the time of the accident hooked the inert body and conveyed it to shore.

In the meantime W. E. Weurth, superintendent at the Sandusky cement plant, had motored by and with great forethought rushed to the cement mills and returned with a pulmotor, owned by the company.

Beyond All Help.

A physician had arrived and with the skilled aid of Mr. Weurth artificial respiration was applied. Then the struggle against death commenced. The life-giving flood of oxygen was regularly supplied to the contracted lungs of the unfortunate youth for a period of two hours, while all the skill of five of Dixon's leading physicians was thrown into the balance against death. At the end of an hour's effort slight indications of returning life cheered the doctors. In their work, but as time went on death drew nearer and nearer. Hypodermic injections of nitroglycerin were applied to the stilled heart at last resort. Courageously but vainly the futile efforts were continued, yet the time limit was reached and nothing would avail.

Doctors Parker, Baird, Segner, Bokhoff and Ives sorrowfully pronounced the young man dead and ceased their task, almost exhausted. Shortly after the body was taken to the Morris & Preston undertaking rooms.

Gene Quadlin was twenty years of age and was employed by the Reynolds Wire company, and was well known and liked by all.

W. E. Weurth and his assistant, Mr. Fowler, deserve much commendation for their expert services with the complicated pulmotor and their earnest work in attempting to save the lad.

Inquest in Afternoon.

After the unfortunate youth was pronounced dead Coroner Stephan was notified and he conducted an inquest Saturday afternoon, the following jurors returning a verdict of accidental death by drowning: Angier Wilson, Curtis Rice, Bert Carr, Geo. Eichenberg, Ralph Salzman and S. S. Netz. But three witnesses were examined, young Carlson and Thurm, with whom the boy had been swimming, and Dr. Baird.

The evidence showed that Quadlin had been using swimming wings but a short time before the fatal mishap, but had taken them off before venturing out to the point where he stepped off the bar.

YONG MAN, LEARNING TO SWIM, STEPPED OFF BAR NEAR ICE HOUSES.

SEIZE STORSTAD START INQUIRY

While a sob-racked mother waited in agony for two hours on a nearby lawn, four Dixon physicians waged a desperate but losing fight for the life of Gene Quadlin, who was drowned in Rock river at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The drowning occurred 100 yards below the Watson ice houses. This was the spot chosen by Quadlin and his companions for a holiday yewim, which ended so tragically. The boys entered the water at about 9:15 a. m. Quadlin, who could not swim, was accompanied by several boys who could. The better swimmers warned their comrade against venturing into deep water but one of the unfortunately told him that a sand-bar at that point led out into the river some distance. Consequently he waded out to the end of the 50-foot shoal with a confidence that suddenly disappeared when he stepped off the ledge that ended the bar. Immediately he went down. He came up once and cried for help, and sank the second time.

His companions hearing his cries, attempted to aid him, but being weak swimmers had difficulty in breasting the current, which is strong at that point.

The boys immediately called for help and several people in the vicinity with lances responded. The lads themselves secured a grappling hook and rowing out in the river with others dragged the stream. PHYSICIANS LABORED FOR TWO HOURS IN AN EFFORT TO RESUSCITATE THE UNFORTUNATE LAD.

While a sob-racked mother waited in agony for two hours on a nearby lawn, four Dixon physicians waged a desperate but losing fight for the life of Gene Quadlin, who was drowned in Rock river at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The drowning occurred 100 yards below the Watson ice houses. This was the spot chosen by Quadlin and his companions for a holiday yewim, which ended so tragically. The boys entered the water at about 9:15 a. m. Quadlin, who could not swim, was accompanied by several boys who could. The better swimmers warned their comrade against venturing into deep water but one of the unfortunately told him that a sand-bar at that point led out into the river some distance. Consequently he waded out to the end of the 50-foot shoal with a confidence that suddenly disappeared when he stepped off the ledge that ended the bar. Immediately he went down. He came up once and cried for help, and sank the second time.

His companions hearing his cries, attempted to aid him, but being weak swimmers had difficulty in breasting the current, which is strong at that point.

Recovered Body

The boys immediately called for help and several people in the vicinity with lances

Saturday's Game.
The Stars were quick to discover that things were not breaking right for Ackert in the opening game Saturday afternoon and in four innings they drove the clever little south-paw to cover, seven healthy swats together with four bad errors by his teammates causing Manager Valle to withdraw him at the end of the fourth and save him for some future date. Graff, who succeeded him got by dandy with his overhand delivery, and held the Stars to one hit.

The Brunswicks won the toss and took their outs for the beginning of the first game on the new diamond, but probably wished they hadn't been so lucky in the get-away with the coin and they certainly enjoyed the first inning about as much as they would have the toothache.

Stars Got Four.
Larkins connected safely and went down when Ackert uncorked a wild pitch. Ackert got to thinking of how badly he was going to miss his algebra, fourth dimensions, etc., after striking out Heft and he passed Ryan and Emmert in quick "cessation." All of which gave Mr. Hogan a great little opportunity to make himself noticed. He did it all right. A clean swing into left scored two and Charlie Keenan swatted safely, too. Before the inning was over the Stars had annexed four big runs. They added one to the total in the third on hits by Emmert and Keenan and an error by Haley. The third inning marked the climax, as they say on the stage.

J. Whitebread went out Ackert to Haley. Eckert was safe on Duffy's boot but he didn't look a bit dangerous on first after Ned Whitebread fled out to Lenox. Then something happened. Just what we haven't been able to determine. Larkins hit for two cushions into right. Heft walked, Ryan singled, Emmert's grounder was muzzed all up by Duffy and Hogan walked. Before Keenan ended the inning by hitting straight into Duffy's hands three runs had come home. That was all in the scoring line for the Stars; for Graff held 'em to one bingle thereafter.

Score Without Hit.
The Brunswicks got their first run in the second, and scored it without the aid of a hit. A pass, stolen base and two hard bingles to the infield shoved Schrock across for the first. Some fast and sometimes lucky fielding made Keenan look awfully good until the eighth, when the former high school boys got their second and last tally.

This they accumulated by virtue of some real hitting and taking advantage of everything in sight. Byers hit safely to start the inning, but was forced at second by Coakley, who landed safely on the initial sack. "Coak" stole and appeared about ready to die when Haley went out, Keenan to first, but Lenox made his teammate's effort fruitful by driving one into center for two bags. Schrock ended things by flying out to third. That was all in the hitting or scoring line. The bookkeeping:

MIKE DONLIN

♦ Red McGhee says:

Ol' Muggs McGraw has quite some rep for turnin' out the boys with pep to 'lectrify the nation. An' nearly ev'ry year you'll find him drivin' right along behind an all-star aggregation. It's not so very long ago Mike Donlin played in Muggs's show an' shined out pretty bright. Then, by some funny turn o' luck, the ol' castimer got stage-struck an' married Mabel Hite.

When Mike annexed himself a wife he thought he'd give the footlight life a handsome little treat. Became an actor—yes, he did. I don't know who he tried to kid. I never bought a seat. Well, anyhow, it didn't last, Mike couldn't stand the baseball fast an' back to Muggs he came. I hope the Broadway fever's gone for Mike looks best out on the lawn at our ol' diamond game.

In lookin' through the ol' box score you don't see Mike's name much no more. He pinch hits now an' then. He coaches, too, at first or third an' slips the crisp an' cross-grained word to hostile batt'rymen. The big league tricks Mike has to show to youngsters Muggs takes in tow to help his Giant band. Mike helps play ball games with his head—in fact, when everything is said, he's Muggs McGraw's right hand.

went lame and had to be let up on. She was then bred to the little pacing stallion, Willie Benton (2:05 1/4), then a member of Dean's stable, and the following spring produced a bay colt by him that is now five years old. The next fall, after this colt was weaned, she again went in training, was jogged all winter, and Dean felt confident that he would again get her to the races, but as before she "cracked" when put under pressure, and it was decided that no further attempt was feasible to restore her to the turf.

Her owner, E. J. Rochon, of Winnipeg, Man., who had paid $10,000 for her in 1905, wishing to obtain from her foal with a sensational speed inheritance, then had her mated with Minor Heir (1:58 1/4), but she failed to produce by that wonderful horse. She was next stunted to Sarchlight, (2:03 1/4), another great pacer that had been a champion in his day, but again was barren. So last year she was not sent away from the Dean farm, which has been her real home for ten years past, but was mated with Empire Direct. This time a successful cross was made, and the "little black baby" that made its entire into the world last Sunday, was the result.

Colt Is Black.
The new born colt is described as a very handsome one, it has license to be, for The Broncho in his racing days, was one of the trimmest and neatest mares that ever printed a track, while its sire, Empire Direct, is an unusually handsome horse. Before the youngster appeared there were several wagers made regarding its color. Its sire, granite and great-grand-sire—Empire Direct, Direct Hal (2:04 1/4); Direct (2:05 1/4), and Director, (2:07)—were all blacks, and the speculation was whether it would make a fifth link in the ebony chain, which it has done.

The average speed inheritance of this youngster is 2:04 flat. In some ways it is one of the most aristocratically bred pacing foals yet produced. Aside from the great prize of its dam, its sire, which was the first money winning pacer on the Great Western Circuit last year it is expected to make a record below 2:05, the coming campaign, as he has shown himself able to do it.

His sire, Direct Hal (2:04 1/4), was unbeaten, and his grand-sire, Direct (2:05 1/4) was in his day, the world's champion light harness performer, and afterwards became one of the foremost speed progenitors of modern times. As for the dam of Empire Direct, she was no less a celebrity than Bessie Bonnell (2:05 1/4), once joint holder of the world's record for pacing mares, and aside from that renowned pacing stallion, Joe Patchen II, (2:03 1/4), which holds the record for winning the largest amount of money—$27,700—in one season, (1912), ever accredited to a pacer of any age or sex.

Broncho Bill, Matinee Hero.
The Broncho's first foal—the rejoices in the poetical name of Broncho Bill—is now being used as a matinee horse at Winnipeg by its owner, Mr. Rochon. Dean trained him diligently, but he did not respond with enough speed to make him a steak candidate. Evidently the cross of the mare with Willie Benton, was no great success, but Benton had neither the class, the gameness, the breeding nor the individuality of Empire Direct, and it is logical, therefore, to believe that the mare's second foal, will, when old enough develop into a performer worthy of its parentage.

Deny Greece Buys Ships

Officials at Athens Express Doubt as to Utility of U. S. Guns.

London, June 1.—An Athens dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says it is denied in official quarters that Greece is about to buy the battleships Idaho and Mississippi from the United States government, though it is admitted that tentative negotiations for the purchase of the vessels have been carried on. Naval officers express doubt as to the utility of the purchase owing to the alleged inferiority of the guns on the two warships.

Militant in St. Paul's.
London, June 1.—A militant suffragist, evading the watchful officials in St. Paul's cathedral, mounted the steps of the lectern at the morning services and harangued the astonished worshippers upon "the wrongs of women" for upward of a minute despite the efforts of ushers to dislodge her. She was finally carried bodily from the cathedral.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—Rene Thomas, driving a French car against a field of the premier pilots and fastest of five nations' cars, created a new record on Saturday at the Indianapolis speedway to win the international championship. His elapsed time was 6 hours 3 minutes 45 and 99-100 seconds. His average per hour was 82.47 miles. The old record, held by Joe Dawson since 1912, was 78.72 miles an hour.

Dawson Seriously Hurt.

The race was the bloodiest run since 1911. Joe Dawson lies in a critical condition in the Methodist hospital with a broken collar bone, internal injuries, twisted back and bruise blackened body—a wreck of the man who won the race in 1912 and entered the lists a popular favorite. His injury was the result of "turning turtle" while going 100 miles an hour. Physicians fear he may not recover.

In a room near him is Ray Gilhooley. His face is gashed and torn almost beyond recognition. Gilhooley's Isotta blew a rear tire, hit the retaining wall and turned over.

Several Others Injured.

In other rooms are the mechanics of both drivers, one Vere Barnes, who rode beside Dawson, with face cut and body bruised, the other Lino Bonani, with contusions on his forehead, lower lip torn, right shoulder bruised and left knee cap wrenched.

These were the most seriously injured. Others hurt were Jean Chasagne, driver of the Sunbeam, and his mechanic, Tom Mitchell, both of whom were cut about the face. Mitchell also has internal injuries.

Dawson Crashes Into Wreck.

Dawson was on his forty-seventh lap in his Marmon when he was injured. Immediately ahead of him and putting along at 80 miles an hour was Gilhooley, who lost control of his car. It skidded across the track towards the hole, whirled in its flight, made a dash for the retaining wall and turned over.

Dawson attempted to clear the wrecked Isotta, threw his wheel to the left, and ran down to the grass. His speed was too great to make the turn. The front wheels struck a clump of sand. The car shot into the air, turned over once, struck the ground, and somersaulted again. It fell on its back.

Guards and doctors ran to the Marmon and the Isotta. Gilhooley and Bonani were sprawled prone on the surface of the track. Dawson's mechanic was pinned beneath the wreck of his car. Twenty feet away lay Dawson.

Rocking beside him was the Stutz driven by Anderson, which also had been forced to take the ditch to prevent hitting Gilhooley's car. Anderson's wheels were buried in the sand.

QUELL "FREE SPEECH" MOB

Rioting in Village Called "John D.'s Town" by Agitators.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 1.—In three detachments, the latest of which arrived at 9:30 o'clock and was held by the police at the railroad station, a force of anarchists and Independent Workers of the World agitators came to town on Sunday, and caused a succession of riots. In one of these, which followed an attempt of agitators to denounce John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the public square, a young rioter called out to Policeman Cregier: "If I had a gun I'd shoot you dead where you stand."

The answer to this threat was a blow with the policeman's club which cut open the agitator's face. Altogether 15 persons were arrested.

The agitators included all of those who gained notoriety in New York city. Arthur Caron preceded them with Becky Edelson, and both Caron and Becky were put into jail with several followers.

Yockey-Gannon.

This afternoon at four o'clock the marriage of Gertrude F. Gannon, daughter of Commissioner Martin J. Gannon, to States Attorney Edward J. Yockey, of Milwaukee, Wis., was solemnized at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church, with Rev. Father Foley, officiating.

The bride has been a resident of Milwaukee since 1902, when as a young girl she went to that city with Lawrence McGreal, her brother-in-law, at the time that he started business as a wholesale and retail photograph dealer. She came to Dixon from Rochester, N. Y., when her father took the foremanship of the C. M. Henderson company.

Miss Gannon met Mr. Yockey, during the political campaign of 1912, when himself and Mr. McGreal were candidates for States Attorney and Sheriff, respectively.

After Mr. McGreal was elected sheriff he sold his entire business to Miss Gannon, which business she has since conducted with marked success. A few weeks ago, in anticipation of her marriage, she disposed of her holdings in Milwaukee at a handsome profit to a Chicago syndicate. Miss Gannon has a host of friends in Dixon, who will wish her every happiness for the future.

Mr. Yockey is well and favorably known throughout Wisconsin, where he has gained an enviable reputation as a brilliant and successful attorney. This is evidenced by the fact that he was elected States Attorney of Milwaukee county, two years ago by a pronounced majority, and against strong opposition as the Socialists directed all their strength and influence to bring about his defeat. Mr. Yockey is a self-made man. He was reared in Escanaba, Mich., where his family has lived for years. His father is an old time engineer on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, retiring recently on account of ill health. As a young man Mr. Yockey's ambition to gain an education was somewhat handicapped by lack of the necessary means, but undaunted, he accepted and worked at anything he could get and by dint and determination, which became necessary in order to earn enough to procure an education, he graduated in 1896 from the Ohio State University and in 1899 from the Notre Dame University of South Bend, Ind. He then located in Milwaukee.

A large number of friends of both Miss Gannon and Mr. Yockey were in this city today to give to the young couple God speed and to witness their marriage. Among them were, Mrs. Yockey, mother of the groom, his brother, Chauncey, Exalted Ruler of the Milwaukee Lodge, No. 46, B. P. O. E., his sister, Miss Fritz and little niece, Billy Valentine; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGreal, Mr. Frank X. Boden, Mr. Joseph F. Gannon, Mr. and Mrs. James Devoy, Mr. Devoy is Assistant Superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, railway. Mrs. Sarah A. Gaffney, Mrs. Flora Kreech and Helen Regan, all of Milwaukee, and also Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Uhl, of St. Louis, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Yockey will leave immediately after the ceremony on an extended honeymoon trip throughout the East, spending most of the time at Asbury Park, N. J. On their return they will reside at 476 Bradford avenue, Milwaukee.

ASHTON PIONEER CALLED TO REWARD

MRS. LOUISE CAROLINE GARRETT, BORN IN 1840, IN SUBLETTE TOWNSHIP, IS DEAD.

Ashton, Ill., June 1.—Special to the Telegraph.—Mrs. Louise Caroline Garrett, one of the oldest residents of the county, passed away this morning at 1 o'clock. The funeral will be held on Wednesday at the Presbyterian church, at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Ashton cemetery.

Mrs. Garrett was born Dec. 31, 1840, in a log cabin at the edge of Palestine Grove in Sublette township. She was the daughter of Herman L. and Lucy Brown Hatch and was either the third or fourth white child born in Sublette township.

Her early education was given her by her mother and later she attended school at LaMoille. Her education was completed at the old academy at Lee Center and after graduating there she taught school for a number of years.

In October, 1860, she was married to James Garrett of Rochelle, who preceded her in death in 1874. The Garretts moved to Ashton in 1865, and Mrs. Garrett has lived here ever since with the exception of five years she spent on a farm in Sublette township with her two sons. At the time of her death she was one of the oldest pioneer residents in this part of the state.

She is survived by three sons. They are James H., Champaign; Wm. D., Thermopolis, Wyo.; and George D. of Ashton. Charles L. Hatch, a brother, and Mrs. Harriet Gardner, a sister, of Rochelle, also survive to mourn her loss. She gave up her long life to unselfish devotion and service to her children and neighbors.

BRIGHTEN UP.

Get in a brush and can of paint
And brighten up;
Paint some roses where there ain't
And brighten up;
Wash your face and comb your hair,
Say, farewell to every care,
Help each day to be bright and fair,
And brighten up.

SEEK GIRL IN GRAVE IN INDIANA SWAMP

SEARCHERS OR KATHERINE WINTERS BELIEVE THEY WILL FIND HER BURIED.

DETECTIVE ACCUSES PARENTS

Former Roomer at Winters Home Included in Charge—Message Says Girl Has Been Found.

(Associated Press.)

New Castle, Ind., June 1.—Detective Abel, employed to investigate the disappearance of Catherine Winters, filed an affidavit of information in the circuit court here today charging W. A. Winters, his wife and W. C. Cooper, a former roomer at the Winters home, with conspiracy to commit felony.

Newcastle, Ind., June 1.—Receipt of a telegram here from Finlay, O., aroused hope that Catherine Winters, who has been missing since March 20, 1913, had been found and threw a shadow of uncertainty over the proceedings against her father and step-mother, who were arrested Saturday in connection with her disappearance.

The telegram was from Judge H. O. Dorsey, who told Prosecuting Attorney Myers that a girl answering Catherine's description was living with a family named Pratt in that city. An investigation of the report will be made today.

Despite these rumors authorities are proceeding in their quest for the body of the missing girl, the daughter of Dr. W. A. Winters. A search for the body will be started in a lonely swamp on a farm four miles west of this city.

A year ago the owner of the farm found a shovel lying beside a mound of newly turned earth. He took the shovel to his home and forgot the incident.

The scene was recalled vividly to his mind when he read the story of the search of the home of Doctor Winters for trace of the missing girl. He had been told that many people no longer believed that the girl had been kidnapped, but feared that she had been murdered.

The farmer reported finding the shovel to Robert H. Abel, a private detective, who has been conducting a search for the body of the girl, and plans were arranged by Mr. Abel and Mayor Watkins to search in the swamp. The shovel bore the mark of the Big Four railroad, for which W. R. Cooper, who has been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony in connection with Catherine's disappearance, formerly worked as a telegraph operator.

Doctor Winters and his wife, who were released on bonds after they had been charged with conspiring to commit a felony, will be taken into custody again today, according to a statement of William R. Myers, the prosecuting attorney for Henry county.

Affidavits filed with Mayor Watkins which caused the arrest of Doctor Winters and his wife will be presented to Circuit Court Judge Jackson today. Prosecutor Myers declared with the request that bench warrants be issued charging a more serious offense. Cooper still is in jail, being unable to furnish bond of $5,000.

The arrest of a fourth person also will be asked, Mr. Myers said. The affidavits will be accompanied by a request for a special grand jury to make a full investigation of the accusations contained in the affidavits, according to Mayor Watkins.

Mrs. Winters made the first statement for the family through her lawyer. She said that the sweater and undershirt had been used to stop the holes in the cement blocks of the partition to prevent a pet kitten from falling through.

INJURED MAN WAS FOUND ON TRACKS

ED. MAHAR SUFFERED BROKEN JAW TAYIN GTO BOARD A TRAIN AT NACHUSA.

Edward Mahar, home unknown, was picked up on the "cut-off" tracks near Nachusa Saturday evening in an unconscious condition, workmen finding him on the right of way where it was evident he had been thrown by a train which he had probably tried to board. The Sterling passenger was stopped and the injured man was brought to this city and taken to the Dixon hospital, where it was found his injuries consisted of a broken jaw and minor bruises. He was turned over to the county officials by the railroad company.

Willie's Confession.

Little Willie had been very naughty—so much so, in fact, that after having reproved him several times, his mother was at last forced to severely punish him.

"What's the matter, sonny," he cried.

ONLY WILSON MEN TO GET POST OFFICES

SENATOR LEWIS SAYS POSTMASTER GENERAL WILL PICK DIXON OFFICIAL.

According to United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, the fight for the Postmastership in Dixon, as well as in several other Illinois cities, will be settled by Postmaster General Burleson, who has taken into his own hands the naming of the new postmasters for Dixon, Mendota, Galesburg, Mount Morris and other cities in which factions have been at sword's points for months. Senator Lewis says that several appointees have been selected without regard to his recommendations or those of the two Congressmen-at-Large.

The Senator said that the object of Postmaster General Burleson in taking this course is to make sure that the offices are given to "Wilson" men who are directly responsible to their supporters. The Senator will concur in the recommendations unless he considers the candidate unfit for the position.

What the REVONOC Kerosene Oil Stove Burns

Do you know 400 gallons of air to one gallon of common Kerosene Oil makes a large amount of blue flame directly in contact with cooking vessel? Perfect combustion.

Automatically generates gas from kerosene; as the flame of work increases; the consumption of air automatically increases with it.

Most economical stove. Cooks at much less cost and faster than any other stove or any other fuel. WHY? For the reason that kerosene oil is cheap and has an immense amount of heat in it and in this stove 400 times as much air as oil is burned with it, making the hottest fire at smallest cost.

AS DELIGHTFUL AS A GAS RANGE. Easily operated and controlled. Brass direction plate on every burner. Large square top grates, giving fifty per cent more cooking capacity. Cooking pots can be shoved or slid around easily, and several pots can boil over enquire. Made of steel, cabinet style. Porcelain enameled burner drums, heavy solid brass burners. AN ANGLER'S ANGUISH,

SI'S REMARKABLE RESCUE ABOVE THE DIXON DAM.

By the U. S. Court Poet.
A. D., MCCCXIV (V. 13.)

Oh, here's a sad lay, for the good month of May,
Of a fisher-lad, skilful and brave,
Who, in his skiff set sail, in a Rock river gale,
For a tour up the turbulent wave.

The wind it blew hard, as Si's stout craft flew,
Like a frightened wild bird on the wing;
Neither breezes nor cold scared our young angler bold,
For that day he was sure the whole thing.

The hungry fish took that fisher-lad's hook
And he landed them aboard by the score;
Till the hold of the boat was as full as a goat,
And he sighed that it couldn't hold more.

Then shoreward he turned his boat as it churned
The Rock river's sweet silvery stream;
And he wondered much as the helm he would clutch,
If his fishing that day was a dream.

But the thick fog fell fast as he lowered the mast,
And he took in the heavy main-sail;
Then his bearings he lost on that mist-shrouded coast;
He was adrift in that Rock river gale!

He was far from the ken of boats and of men,
E'en Fuller's Cave he couldn't discover;
His courage gave way on that terrible day;
He was lost on the great raging river!

Then he prayed and he cried as his out and inside
Were tossed by the troublous river;
His hope was all gone, as he drifted along;
To the world he bade farewell forever!

The boat's gunwales tipped, in the waters they dipped,
In the waves the fisher's hands laved;
The stream it was warm! Gone at once his alarm!
He was rescued, recovered and saved!

For, lo, there stood the pier, with its waste pipe quite near,
That emptied hot floods from the mill;
Sandusky's cement wrought foul discontent;
Fish-folk, ice-men, and all, counted nil.

So my fisher-lad took with a whopping big hook
A glorious old pike for his dinner;
This he dropped in the burn * where it boiled to a turn,
Just as Satan cooks many an old sinner.

Yet in Dixon's fair town, a place of renown,
I've been told certain citizens knock
At the use of this pier and the emptying here
Of "hot stuff" into the beautiful Rock.
*The Scotch for "creek."

The above was written for The Dixon Evening Telegraph by Federal Clerk McMillan, who was here with Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis during a recent trial, the testimony of which evidently gave the Court Clerk an inspiration, with the above result.

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS.

There is no chance for argument in the statement that physical development is as valuable to the boy and girl as mental. Without either they are unfitted to fight the battles of life in this strenuous age. A Rockford paper expresses this advanced idea very well:

There was a time when athletics belonged entirely to the volunteer activities of the public schools, when they were considered but incidental tags of a educational system. That time is now past and there is a growing tendency throughout the country to embody athletic interests within the curriculum of a well rounded course of education. Athletics and gymnastics are now being put on a comprehensive educational basis with the recognition of the value of thorough physical education to every boy and girl. American civilization and increasingly modern life throughout the world has put a strain upon the nervous system causing grave anxiety as to the future of a race fast becoming neurotic.

No one is any stronger than his nervous system. This shattered, a man is soon thrown upon the scrap heap of inefficiency. A physical education looking to the upbuilding of the nerves and the increasing of bodily vigor is to be encouraged."

There are other things the Dixon schools could stand improvement in, and problems more needful of attention that must first be disposed of, but when the time arrives when the plan would be feasible, the engagement of a physical instructor for the schools of Dixon (one could easily handle the work on both sides of the river, or perhaps the union high school will have come to solve the troubles by that time), would be a step forward.

BY WALT MASON

Our flags are flying at half-mast, and crepe is on our doors;
our noblest relic's gone at last to alien, distant shores. The wrest-ler's crown is ours no more, the garland or the wreath; our hearts are sad, our heads are sore, and we have aching teeth. From Poland's shore there came a gent whose name is but a joke, and our Americus he bent across his knee and broke. We cannot hail imported beef with vim, like sporting men, till we've recovered from our grief, and got our nerve again. And now to Gotch's sylvan farm, we turn, in our despair: is there no talisman or charm, to lure him from his lair? Is there no way, we ask, to drag the Gotch from his retreat? Will he defend the starry flag, or has he got cold feet? You know how at Jim Jeffries' door we pounded, on a day, when all our hearts were sick and sore, our laurels wrenched away. And Jeffries came to bring them back, a figure grand, sublime; what happened them—alas! alack! we'll tell some other time. And now all patriots demand that Gotch, the great and strong, should keep the laurels in this land, where surely they belong.

THE SPILL.

Wm. Merrick of above Grand Detour was painfully cut about the head and face late Friday evening when he was thrown from a buggy driven by Albert Dobler, who works on the Peter Carlson farm east of town. The runaway took place on East Second street at about 11 o'clock and was caused by a tramp dog running into the street and grabbing the colt Dobler was driving.

The dog grabbed the colt by the nose, causing it to break from the driver's control and turn across a vacant lot at the corner of Dixon avenue and Second street and plunge into a hole which was partially filled with cans, old pipe and other rubbish. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out and Merrick was cut across the forehead and bruised about the shoulders. The buggy was broken considerably and the colt was slightly cut about the legs.

cloud this. The father come not to long for one more word with his first born, but rather to place his hand upon the shoulder of his last-born and say, "God bless you, my son, be a man." Yea, we all come today bringing the real manhood and womanhood of this day and generation, we come as American citizens to thank God that in our great needs of the past and in the present as well, our patriotism is and has been equal to the hour. Senator Carpenter once said the following words: "We are here to reflect rather than to weep; we come here to gather inspiration and learn the lessons to be taught from the examples of these and those departed; to consider the fruits of victory they have secured for us, and hence to deduce our duty as a nation in the great future which opens before us with immortal splendor."

The words of the senator truly fit our case today. Here to gather inspiration and learn the lessons to be taught from your examples of bravery, loyalty and devotion to duty. When I think of your many sacrifices and your loyalty I am reminded that people all over the world have placed great tablets and monuments in memory of the dead; you and our forefathers have accomplished. Yea, there is in every village and in every neighborhood a glowing pride in its martyred heroes, tablets preserve their names, pious love shall renew the inscriptions as time and the unfeeling elements efface them.

On the brow of a hill in old Saratoga, kissed by the first glimpses of dawning day, grandly beautiful in the evening hour as it is couched by the last golden rays of the setting sun, there stands a monument, erected to the memory of the brave men who fought and died for their native land. In each of the four walls of this monument there is carved a niche. In one there is the statue of General Gates, in another the statue of General Schuyler while the third is graced with the statue of General Burgoyne and the fourth is vacant.

One hundred and thirty-eight years ago there was born in a small village in the state of Connecticut a child, whose name was destined to be forever associated with this country in its struggle for liberty and independence. Passing over his youth, which was to a certain extent uneventful, we find him at the age of young manhood, just at the time that the Colonists have sprung to arms and cried to the tyrannical ruler, King George III, that "taxation without representation was tyranny." Realizing, as you men did in '61, the need his country had for him, he gave himself to it, organized in his home town a company and went into the fray. As we follow him a few steps we note bravery true as steel. At Lake Champlain, when his ships are burning, under fire of the enemy, hear him as he cries out, "Every man flee for his life. I shall be the last to leave the galley." Again at Bunker's, again at Quebec, like Sheridan of your time, his men to retreat, when he mounts to a high rock, throws his sword high in the air and cries out, "Come on, men of Quebec, come on." And they did. Again see him, like your comrades and yourself, wherever his lines were thickest and hardest pressed, wherever death was most certain, there upon his black charger, the undaunted hero sits, commanding his men at the right and left of him. Look, cannon are booming, shells are bursting, the atmosphere is one dense cloud of smoke and flying missiles of destruction; such a scene, I can not describe, but you men, sitting there in front of me, you with the scars upon your bodies of such scenes know the awfulness of it, but like all battles, soon it was over and there in the fortress of Saratoga, which a few minutes before had been the stronghold of the English, there sits the hero, the black horse dead beneath his body, he wounded, yet his sword in the air and crying, "Saratoga is won."

Before drawing my lesson from this man and soldier, first let me show you one more scene, 21 years after the above-mentioned scene, yonder in the country to whom he sold the secrets of his country, not in a palatial home given him by that country; no, not even in a soldier's home, but in a rude garret on a bed of straw alone, no mother, wife or sweetheart to wipe the death dew from his brow, only the Man of God is with him trying to point him to the "Christ who died to make man holy" as he had "bled to make men free." But he starts and shudders at the word "Christian," and says, "Look ye, priest, this coat is spotted with my blood; that coat I wore when I planted the old stars and stripes on Bunker's, that bullet hole was pierced on the battlefields of Quebec, but now, I am a traitor." So this hero, this conqueror, this mighty soldier, brave and courageous as such, was weak and vacillating as a man, and today nor yesterday have the American people had any kindly thoughts for him and no one cherishes fondly remembrance for the one whose soldier life made him deserve a monument in the fourth niche, but his manhood failed him.

All this story to ask the following question: Do you see his grave today, this day when we are thinking of the brave men of days gone by and the brave men of today who fought for our country. Yonder as I aforesaid we see grasses green on their graves. Flowers have been placed by God and by man, but as I look I see no green grass or memory on the grave of Arnold, for both God and man hate a coward and a traitor. Thank God the mighty Revolution did not have more than one Arnold, but instead, men of loyalty, and never give up spirit, which spirit was stamped into the blood of the following generation and gave to the United States men like Lincoln, Grant, Logan, yea, men of the type and power of those whom we honor today, the living and the dead of '61-'65.

As I look at you men today I am thinking how thin your ranks are becoming. Just a few years ago when I was a boy like those who have been singing to us in such sweet song there were hundreds of the Bronze button men marching through our streets on Memorial day. But year by year the great bugler calls the final rally and the comrades are going out to meet the Great Commander of the Mighty Army, and Oh, what a welcome it must be to the men and women of the days of such bitter darkness, for their service, we remember it, was written in the Holy Writ, that "He that is faithful in the few things will be ruler over many. Privates, officers, who are still holding onto life, a great emancipation days is coming, and it will be as fair, mark me, as that beautiful Palm Sunday fifty years ago when Lee walked to Grant and presented his sword. Live with us, men of '61-'65, as long as possible, but when the summons come be sure, "great will be your reward." Far greater than any human hands have extended.

President Wilson recently called the war with Mexico, "a war of service." Yet I think today, all wars in our country have been wars of service. Back in the Revolution, service of independence; '61-'65, service for those chained and shackled black men; '98, service for those oppressed islands of the sea; '14, service for fair play. And thus the call to service goes on, and as the blood of your forefathers told in you, so may the integrity and determination of purpose of your blood blossom in the manhood of this younger generation and when the call for service comes, be it great or small, may we find men who would go half clothed and barefoot through the winter storms and make Valley Forge immortal, may we find men who would endure hellish hardships of the days of '61-'65, drinking water from the slimy pools along the roadside to quench their thirst, marching through swamps of poison and death, ate food unfit for lowest animal life and thereby making Gettysburg sacred. Yea, may we find men who will be as brave as those who stood ready at El Caney, San Juan, Santiago and Manila. Indeed, may there be in every tent, in every home, that loyalty to our country which if needed will bring forth in every conflict a tremendous victory.

Men of the Grand Army of the Republic and those companions of yours—those noble women who stood the mighty cost of the days of rebellion with an unflinching courage, let me assure you that the men and women of my generation are unable to express in any light of oratory or in painted pictures the esteem and gratitude we have for you for the untiring efforts made by you and the undaunted courage always manifested.

The sacrifice in human life that the womanhood of those dark days made can little be appreciated by the living generation of folk, and yet it must have been great, we know that you were not called upon to carry the sword or to bear the musket; you may never have heard the awful roar of bursting shells, but, ah, that sword cut received by brother, father or friend cut deeper than words can express, that shot in the side drove the bitter sting not simply to the flesh but clear to the heart, for it broke the tie of love. We see you in imagination's picture, womanhood, as you stood by the gate watching the fast disappearing form of the loved one, the wave with the old gingham apron, and then the hurried raise to the eye, where the hot tears of love to departed one and country flow so freely. Your devotion to country, your hours of watchful longing will live on and be cherished by us forever.

In 1789 the flag of this republic waved over 4,000,000 in thirteen states and their savage territory to the Mississippi, Canada and Florida. The timid minds of that time shouted "That's enough," and though the angels to the gospel of liberty and prosperity raved on, still the flag of the republic pressed on, cheered in its path by a Jefferson, who left his vital thoughts ringing in the ears of Jackson, who passed his ideas on to Monroe to carry on till Seward putting his ear to the ground caught the germ of progression and passed it on to Grant to follow with like enthusiastic methods, which burned the way to Benjamin Harrison, who left the bell ringing so loudly that McKinley caught the strain and picked up the banner of Betsy Ross and placed it yonder on the islands of the sea.

She may have been commanded to stop, yea, she has been insulted, only to be placed higher than ever, each wind of opposition simply placing her roots deeper and the red blood of fertilization richer and thus forming a foundation impossible to be shattered.

The spirit of '76, handed to the men of '61, passed on to the men of '98 lives in us, we must be patriotic, even after they are all hence, comrades. Memorial day will live on, and your lives as the lives of those yonder beneath God's green carpet, will live with us as we pick up Old Glory and carry her all over the world, singing, "Three cheers for the red, white and blue."

BLOODY ANCHOR ON BOW OF STORSTAD

the Empress after his vessel struck the liner. The Storstad did not move. It was the Empress which had changed positions, he declared.

According to the report made by Captain Andersen to the owners, immediately the collision occurred he heard Captain Kendall shout, calling on him not to pull away.

"I won't," shouted the Storstad's captain as loud as he could. After that the Empress disappeared from the Storstad's view.

With its bows crumpled in and twisted around at an acute angle to port, and a gap showing on the port side only a foot or so above the water line, in mute evidence of the tragedy in which it figured, the collier limped into the harbor. A few minutes later a warrant of arrest, taken out by the Canadian Pacific railroad, was nailed to the mainmast by order of W. Simpson Walker, K. C., registrar of the Quebec admiralty.

"By what authority do you come on board my vessel and place it under arrest?" asked Captain Andersen, commander of the collier.

"By authority of the British empire," curtly replied the deputy sheriff who was commissioned to execute the warrant, and who forthwith proceeded to affix the warrant in the customary place.

Cargo Is Unloaded.

No sooner was the vessel moored than it began to unload the cargo of coal, and were it not for the battered condition of its bows it would be difficult to imagine that the collier so recently had taken part in one of the worst marine disasters in the history of Canadian navigation.

The officers and men, however, bore traces of their harrowing experiences. When questioned on the subject of the disaster they were averse to entering into conversation. The seizure of the Storstad was at the instance of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, whose claim against the owners of the collier, the Maritime Steamship company of Norway, is for $2,000,000 less. There may be a further claim by the Canadian Pacific railway for loss of cargo. The owners of the Storstad will, it is understood, put up bonds, so that the vessel may be released.

188 Bodies Arrive.

Quebec, June 1.—The Canadian government steamer Lady Grey brought from Rimouski 188 bodies recovered from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland.

The historic heights overlooking the St. Lawrence were black with spectators as the funeral ship moved slowly up the river and was moored at the new embankment wall in the tidewater. The coffins were carried ashore and the mournful work of identification began without delay.

The Lady Grey was escorted by his majesty's ship Essex and 50 sailors from the warship with bared heads carried the coffins down the gangplank and laid them in rows on three long tables stretched under the freight shed on the pier.

Seek to Identify Dead.

The building was draped with black. A crowd that included many of the survivors and relatives and friends of the dead gathered at the doors and waited in silence for permission to enter and pass down the aisles between the rows of bodies.

The three tables, each 100 feet long, soon held coffins of every description. Assembled on one were 25 little white caskets that held the bodies of children. Although the Lady Grey had taken to Rimouski all the coffins that could be gathered in the short time at the disposal of the government and steamship officers, they were not enough.

Besides the children's caskets there were 88 containing the bodies of adults. The other victims were brought here in rough pine boxes hastily nailed together for the occasion. There was no solder sight in the building than the table where rested these improvised coffins, for many of them held the bodies of mothers and children locked in the last embrace just as they had sunk to their death off Father Point.

DIXON HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATING CLASS

THIRTY-TWO YOUNG PEOPLE RECEIVED DIPLOMAS FRIDAY EVE.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM GIVEN

Graduates Demonstrated Efficiency in Entertaining Enormous Audience.

Another class has left Dixon high school, a class well equipped for the world's work, as was evidenced by the excellence of the commencement program rendered by them at the opera house Friday evening, the several parts being well executed.

Perhaps the largest gathering that ever witnessed a commencement program of that school was present, the opera house being filled to overflowing.

Rev. Altman delivered the invocation. Several new features were introduced into the program, it being a combination of the old class day and commencement exercises.

Interesting Debate. One feature was a debate, a new sort of class prophecy and history and the old style thesis rendered in a masterly way.

The subject for debate was, "Resolved that our present immigration laws should be so amended as to provide for a material restriction of immigration." The affirmative was taken by Warren Graff and Miss Mazie Espy, while Stanwood Griffith and Miss Esther Barton maintained the negative. Their efforts displayed well the advantage the literary training received in our high school.

Class Prophecy. The class prophecy was an amusing part of the entertainment, given by four young ladies representing the witches in Shakespeare's Macbeth, and weirdly foretold the futures of each of the 32 members of the class. The several theses were uniformly well done and the class history was given in the best possible manner by Mark Herbst.

The musical numbers by the high school quartet and Mrs. Muriel Price Phelps were highly applauded. After a farewell address by Royal Fitzsimmons, class president, Prof. C. H. Anderson gracefully presented the class in well chosen words and offered them some timely advice, urging them not to drift derelict upon the sea of life, but to follow a high purpose and allow nothing to deflect them from it.

Received Diplomas. In concluding the ceremonies Prof. Snyder impressed the class with the fact that the world would receive them according to their merits and its rewards must be earned. Prof. Snyder then presented the diplomas, the ceremony which closed the brilliant high school career of the class of 1914.

The young people who comprise the class are:

Anna Faith Altenderfer, Clara Grace Armstrong, Esther Mae Barton, Clarence Clayton Billig, Pearl A. Biescker, Agnes E. Bloomdahl, Paul Weaver Byers, Fernando Sanford Coakley, John Raymond Curran, Frank Jerome Curran, Harry Louis Derr, Erna Drew, Joseph H. Eichler, Mazie Elizabeth Espy, Joseph Royal Fitzsimmons, Warren Q. Graff, Hazel Marie Green, Stanwood John Griffith, Mary Catherine Hyde, Nellie Marie Hill, Mary Irene Hanrahan, Mark Edward Herbst, Mary Lucile Jones, Olga Jensen, Mabel Elizabeth Kling, Katherine Evelyn Klapprott, Helen McKenney, George Jerome McKenney, Helen Marie Stultz, Dement Schuler, Ona Irene Spellman, Florence Margaret Vail.

DR. ALTMAN SPOKE TO N. DIXON CLASS

BACCALAUREATE SERMON WAS DELIVERED BEFORE VERY LARGE AUDIENCE.

THE VALUE OF A PURPOSE

Pastor Urged Graduates to Battle Life's Problems Steadfastly to a High Purpose.

The baccalaureate services of the graduating class of the North Dixon high school were held last evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The attendance at the services was very large, many friends of the 22 north side graduates being present with them.

Several beautiful musical numbers were rendered, making a musical program of unusual beauty. The violin solos of Miss Lucia Morse were especially appreciated.

Rev. Altman, at all times a splendid speaker, excellently himself in his address to the graduates and took for his theme, "The Importance of a Good Purpose in Life." This should be considered the primary element in all good living. Circumstances, said he, are not always in our own control, but we are the absolute masters of our purpose. We are not asked if we will take life; we must take it, our only choice being how we will accept life and its circumstances. The young man with a purpose will not fail, but without a purpose he is as a ship with out a rudder and is at the mercy of the winds. He becomes a "drifter."

There are three great factors necessary in carrying out a purpose—application, perseverance and steadfastness. The observance of these three great rules governing the maintenance of a purpose will result in the removal of all obstacles and the attainment of the highest success. The truth of the remarks was very aptly illustrated with several great examples of success in world history, occurring through the observance of purpose, concluding with the crowning example of all time, that of the man of Galilee, who was ever loyal to the truth and devoted to the service of mankind.

In conclusion Rev. Altman congratulated the class on their bright prospects, but warned them that they will encounter even greater problems in their life's work than the previous generations have, and urging them to obtain the best equipment possible to meet these great questions that will arise.

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

Messrs. F. W. Meyer, J. G. Con-schack, Joseph P. Sondgeroth, Frank Hensel, A. C. Oliver Henry and Gustie Gehant went to Chicago Sunday to attend the 31st anniversary celebration of the Catholic Order of Foresters held in the 7th regiment armory hall. The members found a royal entertainment awaiting them and were well pleased that they made the trip. It was estimated that 25,000 people were present at the doings. The affair was in charge of the state court of Illinois and to them belongs the credit for the success of the event.

John Zinke was in town from S-Brooklyn Monday.

Henry Kinkaler writes from Teutopolis, this state, telling of his visit and how he is enjoying the vacation at his old home. He says the vicinity needs rain badly.

The next band concert on our streets will be held on Saturday evening, June 6th, and like last week's affair will be followed by a dance in the opera house for those wishing to enjoy the pastime.

The monthly meeting of the directors of the Farmers' Elevator company will be held on the first Monday in June.

Wm. Black and son James of Collins, Ia., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thier and family in our city this week. Mr. Black made the trip across country in his new Franklin auto.

Philip Fassig purchased a new auto of the Edward Henry agency Monday afternoon. Peter Snyder also purchased a new car of Mr. Henry during the morning, preferring to turn in the motorcycle for a machine with four wheels. Peter must have fallen some time or other lately which convinced him that he needed an auto instead of a motorcycle.

John Unts was in town Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Henry of Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Wiser of Ashton motored to our city on Sunday and spent the day with their many friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Henry have purchased a home on Highland avenue in Dixon and expect to move there about the first of June.

Joseph Bieschke of Viola was in town transacting business on Tuesday morning.

It is estimated that at least 500 people were in our town on Saturday night to trade with our merchants, and also to enjoy the entertainment given by the band boys on the streets and afterwards in the opera house. Some seventy automobile loads were gathered on Main street and the cars averaged five persons each so quite a crowd arrived in that manner. Then the buggies were so thick that one person was con pelled to tie his rig behind another for lack of room. With clear skies a much larger crowd no doubt would have been here, but the threatening weather caused some to remain away. Remember, June 6th, and follow the crowd to West Brooklyn.

Our people can be entertained in town this Saturday night very easily on account of F. H. Thompson's show being with us for the last three days of the week. They have a good show and everyone just now is especially interested in the pictures they show of the Mexican war.

John Harthan was in town transacting business on last Tuesday morning.

Assessor Charles Stout was over on Tuesday morning from Compton with his books.

Lost. An auto whistle somewhere between the homes of Peter Barnickel and Henry Ladenberger in South Brooklyn. Finder will please leave at this office or notify John Fassig who will greatly appreciate your kindness.

Modest Vincent of Viola township was in town on business matters on Tuesday.

By the way, one of our readers has been missing considerable property at his home during the dark hours of the night, and asks us to give warning to the guilty parties to be careful for a gun full of shot some of these days. They have even gone so far as to take two screens off the windows and take them away. Such work as this should be stopped and will be stopped if the party now keeping a watch ever gets a chance to spot the guilty parties.

Louis Chaon was in town Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Amel Henry motored Wendell Argraves returned to Evanston the first of the week, having spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Argraves.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

American Marines Drowned When Boats Are Swamped at Puerto Aristo.

OTHERS SAVED BY MEXICANS

Peace Agents Bar Rebels and Mediators May End Today Unless Mediators Rescind Their Action.

Mexico City, June 1.—War Minister Blanquet reports an attempt to land American marines from the cruiser Albany at Puerto Arista, state of Oaxaca.

Owing to a heavy sea the boats were swamped and several marines drowned. Others were rescued by Mexicans and sent in custody to Salina Cruz, where they were released and delivered to the commander of the Albany.

It is understood Mexico has cabled the mediators at Niagara Falls a proposal which it is thought should be acceptable, and which, if accepted, would settle the entire question at issue.

Anti-American Riot Quelled. Washington, June 1.—Constitutionalist authorities promptly quelled an incipient anti-American demonstration by intoxicated persons at Tampico, says a report made by Rear Admiral Badger to the navy department.

A flat-footed refusal to grant the United States government's insistent request for Carranza representation in the Mexican peace conference at Niagara Falls has been given to the American representatives there by the South American mediators. In consequence there will be a crucial meeting of the mediators and the American and Huerta delegates today.

Unless the mediators rescind their refusal it is believed in Washington the mediation conference will fail of success.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan received reports of the situation from Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, the American delegates at Niagara Falls, but refused to indicate the contents.

U. S. Accused of Bad Faith. At the last session of the mediators and the American delegates, it is learned from a high official source, the mediators declared with vigor that delay in the proceedings would not be tolerated. The Americans, however, brought about a postponement of a final decision on the Carranza request until today.

Messrs. Lamar and Lehmann insisted that the mediators comply with the request of Carranza for representation in the remainder of the proceedings. The mediators' flat refusal was returned on the ground that the only effect would be to delay the proceedings and give the constitutionalists more time in which to operate and, through the possible overthrow of President Huerta, make the mediation farcical.

At the same time the United States was accused of bad faith in insisting on Carranza representation after allowing the proceedings to develop to the point of virtual agreement on a new provisional government for Mexico without such representation.

The American delegates' rejoinder was that the internal problem of Mexico should not be solved without the constitutionalists being represented, now that it was known definitely that General Carranza desired to be represented.

Word reached Washington that the fines assessed at Vera Cruz against the German steamer Ypiranga under Captain Stekney's interpretation of the Mexican navigation laws amounted to about nine hundred thousand pesos. It was reported the Ypiranga's cargo of munitions of war for Huerta, billed to Vera Cruz, but landed at Puerto Mexico, consisted of not less than 15,000, 900 rounds of ammunition, 250 machine guns and other war material.

The next step in the Ypiranga incident may be the filing of a claim against the United States for compensation for delay in the delivery of the cargo to General Huerta, the delay being occasioned by the occupation of Vera Cruz by the American forces and the consequent diversion of the ship to Puerto Mexico.

Hitch Arises on Armistice. Niagara Falls, June 1.—Mexican peace negotiations are in a state of suspended animation. The action of Carranza in making what is interpreted as an appeal for constitutional representation in the conference has produced an awkward situation, which will be discussed today by the mediators and American delegates.

F-RAY BARS WRECKS IN FOG? Discoverer Claims It Enables Ship to Locate Craft Far Away.

Florence, June 1.—Signar Ulivi, the discoverer of the X and M rays, says collisions between vessels on account of fog can be made impossible by his F-rays. He claims that a ship equipped with his apparatus can determine the direction and distance within thirteen miles of another ship, although the latter is invisible.

Do you know how—
To find relief from backache;
To correct distressing urinary ills;
To assist weak kidneys?
Your neighbors know the way—
Have used Doan's Kidney Pills;
Have proved their worth in many tests.

Here's Dixon testimony.
N. W. Beale, 620 College avenue, Dixon, Ill., says: "For a long time I had kidney trouble and it showed itself in various ways. I had rheumatic twinges and my back was stiff and lame and when bending over, I could hardly straighten. When I was suffering intensely, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Leake Brothers Company Drug Store. They gave me wonderful relief in a short time and I still use them, keeping my kidneys in good shape. All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills one year ago, holds good and I am glad to confirm that statement."

Then what proceeds to spoil things, hey?

In bare back.

Our April day, we must confess,
Is promptly damaged, more or less.
What is the cause of all this mess?

ISAAC LEBOWICH DIED SUDDENLY SATURDAY

FORMER DIXON BUSINESS MAN PASSED AWAY AT HOME IN WATERLOO, IOWA.

BURIAL IN CHICAGO TUESDAY

Deceased Had Suffered From Stomach Trouble For Several Years.

The news of the sudden death of Isaac Lebowich, formerly of this city, at Waterloo, Iowa, Saturday morning, caused a commotion among many Dixonites; for the deceased had hosts of friends in this city, who were attracted by his broad minded and liberal characteristics, and their condolences will be tendered the stricken wife and children. The following account of his death is from a Waterloo, Iowa, paper:

Isaac Lebowich, a prominent Iowa clothing merchant died suddenly at his residence, 134 Maple street, at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday morning. About 6 o'clock Mr. Lebowich arose and went down stairs. As he passed the room habitually occupied by his wife and younger daughter he spoke to Mrs. Lebowich, but made no mention of feeling badly. In a few moments he returned to his room. Just a little later Mrs. Lebowich, who in the meantime had gone to the bath room, heard groans issuing from his room.

Realizing that the condition of her husband was serious, Mrs. Lebowich ran from the house to the home of nearby physician. He and another physician soon arrived and a little later the family physician arrived. Coroner Kistner also had been notified and he too, was soon there, but all were too late, for life had departed before the first one arrived.

The coroner at once took charge and questioned the family physician as to the state of health of Mr. Lebowich, just prior to his death. Mr. Lebowich did not leave any farewell note, as far as known, nor did he utter any farewell words to his wife. For the past year and a half he had been afflicted with a stomach trouble. About a year ago his business block at the corner of Fourth and Front streets, settled slightly and partially collapsed. This worried him quite a little and while worrying over that trouble he remarked that he wished he were dead. A week ago Friday night he worked at his store until a late hour. He was accompanied home by a friend and the two sat on the front porch until Mrs. Lebowich and a lady friend returned from the carnival grounds. This was about 10:30. Shortly after that Mrs. Lebowich said that she heard no more from her husband until he arose early Saturday morning in his own room and went down stairs.

Born in Old Country
Isaac Lebowich had been a resident of Waterloo for more than eight years and had a wide acquaintance. He born nearly forty-nine years ago in Hungary, but came to this country about thirty years ago. For sixteen years prior to coming here he resided in Dixon, Ill. Thirteen years ago, at Chicago, he was united in marriage to Miss Pearl Frank, a sister of Samuel Frank, a local clothier. There is only one child, Miriam, aged seven years. The deceased was a member of the Elks, Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges.

The funeral will be held in Chicago tomorrow morning at 9:00. Rabbi Schoenfarber, conducting the services. Burial will be made in Mount Olive cemetery. Tonight in Waterloo, masonic services will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lebowich of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lebowich of Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Eichler of this city and a number of St. Louis relatives will attend the funeral.

DIXONITE POSSIBLY FATALLY INJURED

G. L. ROBINSON THROWN IN MOTORCYCLE RACE AT ROCKFORD.

GOING AT TERRIFIC SPEED

Fellow Driver Turned Machine Directly in Front of Him on Stretch.

G. Lester Robinson of this city was painfully hurt Sunday afternoon in the motorcycle races at Rockford, in which he was taking part, when, through the carelessness of another cyclist he was thrown from his machine while running at a rate of nearly 60 miles an hour.

The accident occurred in the early part of the afternoon. With the bunch of riders Robinson was speeding down the stretch when a man in front of his machine swerved suddenly in his path. In an instant the two wheels and the Dixon man were thrown into a heap, the other man being thrown clear of the wreckage.

The injured man was quickly taken to the Rockford hospital where surgeons commenced their battle to save his life. It was announced late in the evening, however, that he was probably fatally injured, a continued hemorrhage indicating severe internal injuries.

To Those Who Desire to Save

We offer you one of the safest and best forms of saving money—the monthly payment plan.

We issue stock to anybody, every day. Series No. 108 opened March 1st and closes May 31st. All stock issued between these dates draws interest at 6 per cent from March 1st.

Dixon is growing; so is the Dixon Loan and Building Association. Many people desire to buy or build homes and want us to furnish a part of the money. We want to help them out. We are anxious to increase the sale of investment stock, so that we will have more money to make new loans. Our plan appeals particularly to wage earners.

We recently abolished the membership fee. There's nothing to pay but the monthly dues, which amount to from 50c to 50 Dollars, depending upon the amount of stock carried. Members can withdraw all the money they have paid in at any time and get in addition, 6 per cent interest for the time we have had it.

Nearly 27 years in business, and 62 series of stock paid off in full.

ROMAN MEAL THE NEW HEALTHFUL BREAKFAST FOOD

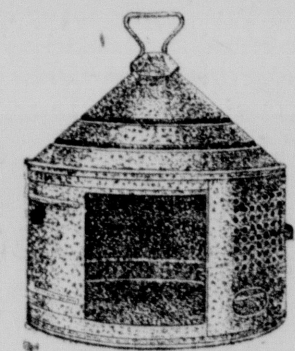

ROMAN MEAL corrects and improves digestion, prevents and relieves constipation.

Roman Meal is composed of wheat, rye and flax. This wheat and rye are ground "with their jackets on." The flax is so treated that it has a delicious nutty flavor with no trace of the characteristic odor.

They claim that with the addition of milk, butter or cream you will have a perfectly balanced food.

It is put up in about three pound packages and retails for 25 cents.
